Music Valley
AT OPRYLAND

Fifty years ago, much of the land now called Music Valley was known as Rudy's Farm and was home to the largest buffalo herd east of the Mississippi River. Now Music Valley is a place for people to roam and have fun – Music City style.

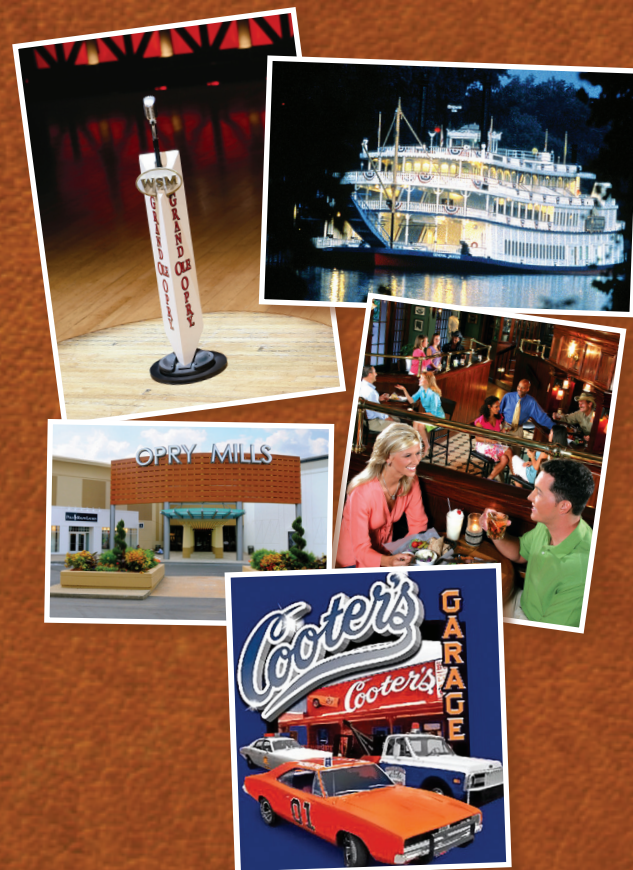

Some of Nashville's most unique attractions are to be found in Music Valley. Cruise the majestic Cumberland River on the General Jackson Showboat, visit the historic Grand Ole Opry, dine at one of the many fine area restaurants or browse the shops at Opry Mills and then take in a movie at Regal Cinemas IMAX. See one-of-a-kind exhibits at Willie Nelson & Friends Museum & General Store or Cooter's Place. Kick up your heels with country stars at the Nashville Palace or Nashville Nightlife Dinner Theatre. Family fun is No. 1 at Grand Old Golf & Valley Park GoKarts, the mid-south's largest track, or just relax at one of the indoor pools at area hotels.

In Music Valley, you can eat, stay, shop and play, all within walking distance of your hotel.
